PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT TRUNK LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In Construction and Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while admirably safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
THE SAFETY APPLIANCES
in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER and PLATFORM
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis and St. Louis, WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
THE SCENERY
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns.

THE PIRATE'S DOOM.

BY PARK BENJAMIN.

"The prisoners fetch!" shrieked the captain bold.
A pirate captain full fierce was he
With a big mustache and beard three days old,
For he never would shave when he went to sea.

"Drag forth the crew of that merchant bark,
Throats must be gashed ere the moon grow pale,"
The pirate ship in the midnight dark,
Fitfully rocked to the rising gale.

"'S blood!" yelled the captain. "'S blood and s'd death!
Daggers and gore! am I not obeyed!"
Grinding his fangs as he paused for breath,
He savagely 'round with a handspike laid.

But on never a soul did his wild blows fall,
For the night was dark and he couldn't see;
Besides, on that deck was no one at all,
Why was this thus? Why should such things be?

A horrible laugh o'er the tempest pealed,
O'er the wet waves seething, dark and vexed,
A hideous howl as the pirate reeled,
Clutched by——

THE VALLEY OF SILENCE.

But far on the deep there are billows
That never shall break on the beach;
And I have heard songs in the silence
That never shall float into speech;
And I have had dreams in the valley;
Too lofty for language to reach

And I have seen thoughts in the valley,
Ah, me! How my spirit was stirred;
They wear holly veils on their faces,
Their footsteps can scarcely be heard;
They pass down the valley like virgins,
Too pure for the touch of a word

Do you ask me the place of this valley?
To hearts that are harrowed by care,
It lieth afar between mountains,
And God and His angels are there;
And one is the dark mountain of sorrow
And one the bright mountain of prayer.

THE SUMMER VACATION.

'So you're doing the fashionable at Sylvan, George,' said Mr. Montiesor.

'Well, sir. I've a two weeks' vacation,' said George Sinclair, rather abashed at meeting his employer in the grounds of the Sylvan Hotel, 'and I thought a little change—"

'Oh, I've no objection at all,' said Mr. Montiesor, kindly. 'I hope you'll enjoy it.'

George Sinclair was a clerk at a salary of nine hundred a year; but, like many a New York clerk, he had a craving after the forbidden delights of what he termed 'tip-top fashionable society.' And Kitty Barker, his fiancee, a trim little damsel, who stood behind the counter of a fashionable fancy store all day, and tried to add to the little sum laid aside for her wedding outfit by doing fine silk embroidery at night, admired his spirit and enterprise.

It never occurred to her that it might perhaps be as well for him to save his money towards the furnishing of the ideal home they had so often talked about, instead of aping the airs and graces of those who could so much better afford to make fools of themselves than he could.

'George has such refined tastes,' said Kitty, who believed devoutly in her lover.

As Mr. Sinclair walked along the broad graveled path, shaded by the tent-like boughs of majestic old white pines, a lady dressed in white, with a black lace shawl festooned scarf-fashion over her shoulders, met him face to face, coming around the turn of the walk. And at the same moment some friendly emissary of old Boreas caught the hat from her head, a dainty toy of white chip, garlanded with French daisies, and carried it half way down the hill.

In an instant Mr. Sinclair had given chase, recovered the flimsy concern, and restored it to the blushing owner, with a bow worthy of Sir Walter Raleigh himself.

'I'm so much obliged to you,' simpered the lady.

'Oh, not at all,' said Mr. Sinclair.

And he passed on.

'Hallo, old chap, you're in luck!' cried Mr. Beman, of the great New York firm of Sweister & Co., who was cut out of the same general pattern as our friend George Sinclair. And he gave the latter a facetious poke with the end of his ivory-topped cane. 'Wish I was gone, eh, Sinclair?'

'I am always delighted to be of use to a lady,' said Sinclair a little stiffly.

'And such a lady,' said Beman. 'Do you know who she is?'

'No. Do you?'

'Don't I? She's Miss Moneyford—old Moneyford's daughter, that owns the Babylonish palace up in Wallace's avenue! The only child, with a clear income of twenty thousand a year of her own!'

'How do you know? When did you see her?' breathlessly demanded Sinclair.

'Never saw her at all! That's the joke of the matter!' chuckled Beman. 'But I have seen the thread-lace shawl. Twenty-five hundred dollars! I sold it myself to the old gentleman as a birth-day gift for her. And I knew she was expected at Lake Sylvan about this time. I say, old fellow, wouldn't it be jolly if you should marry the heiress? Hope you won't forget to invite me to the wedding!'

Sinclair stalked on, in lofty disregard of his companion's ill-bred insinuations. But after all, they were not so impossible. Stranger things have happened. Prosperous marriges had sprung out of slighter foundations than these. And the heiress had certainly smiled very sweetly upon him as she received the daisy-wreathed hat at his hands. If only he hadn't been such a fool as to go and engage himself to Kitty Barker.

That same afternoon he met the lady on the shores of the lake. She was gracious and smiling—he was anxiously respectful—and the upshot of it was that the next day they went boating together.

'How delightful is nature,' sighed the lady.

'I see, Miss Moneyford,' said George, 'that our souls are cast in a congenial mood. Nay you need not looked surprised; I have discovered your incognito!'

'Mr. Sinclair!'

And they grew quite confidential together, gliding along the translucent current beneath the shadow of the trees.

'Seven o'clock! It can't be possible!' cried the wearer of the thread lace shawl. 'Really Mr. Sinclair, you must be a magician to while the time so swiftly away.'

George Sinclair sat and pondered long in his seven-by-nine room in the top story of Sylvan Hotel, while he smoked his cigar.

And before he slept he wrote a letter to Kitty Barker, in which, as plausibly as might be, he intimated that his sentiments had undergone a radical change since their engagement—that he felt it would be a sin to keep the letter of his compact, while it was impossible to fulfill its spirit—and, in short, returning Kitty's troth.

'There,' said he, as he dropped it into the letter box, where a sleepy porter sat by the light of an evil-odored kerosene lamp, 'it's done and over with.'

Kitty Barker was bewildered and stunned when first she read the letter.

'Has he ceased to love?' she asked herself. 'Have I knowingly done aught to forfeit his affection? Oh! I will ask his pardon on my bended knees, if—'

And then she read the cruel document a second time and began to see through the gloss and glamour of Sinclair's skillfully woven net-work of words.

'He has found some one whom he likes better than me,' she told herself, with a mortified pang. 'Some one prettier, fairer, more intellectual, and I am forgotten. Well let it be so. He is right when he says that 'the spirit is more than the letter.'

And Kitty wrote back a brief, cold reply, which set Mr. Sinclair's heart at rest

'I eidn't know but she'd be attempting the breach-of-promise line,' soid he to himself. and that would have been confoundedly awkward.

Just one week subsequently he took advantage of a lovely moonlight night, when his new inamorata was sitting by his side under one of the big elms on the lawn, while the band played the "Serenade from Pasquale" under the gilded canopy by the big verandah, and proposed and was accepted.

Beman, who had run out of his slender stock of money, and was already packing for an early departure the next morning, was annoyed and nervous.

'I always said, old fellow,' said he, 'that you were born under a lucky planet.'

And Sinclair himself felt as if he were walking in a glorified atmosphere of bank bills and cloth of-gold.

They were sitting in love-like fashion under the trees, next day, when a sharp, high-pitched voice from the esplanade called out;

'Sarah! Sarah! Where are you? Where's the key of my room, and what do you mean by this sort of conduct? Wasn't it an especial part of your contract that no followers should be allowed?'

'Madame!' cries George, jumping up, as a sharp-voiced lady of a certain age confronted his lady love with a vinegar acerbity of aspect.

'Take yourself off, young man,' said she, 'or I'll call the private watchman! This is my maid. And how dared you, Sarah, take the liberty of wearing my thread-lace shawl?'

Sarah courtesied, stammered, and excused herself, ending by being swept away in the wake of her imperious mistress.

'I'll see you again,' she said to George, who stood looking on in mute wonder and amazement.

'No, you'll not, Miss,' said George Sinclair to himself. 'I've been sold once, but it will be my own fault if I am sold twice. Miss Moneyford's mvid, indeed!'

It was too true. Miss Moneyford had sent the artful Sarah Roxbury on in advance to secure the rooms and engage for her fitting reception, and S

STOP AND THINK!

Men are governed by impulse to a great extent, and are too apt to be led astray by new leaders and new doctrines. It is so in the Church, and so in the State. New religious sects are started because of some alleged evil in the old ones, but history shows that in all such cases new evils have arisen to take the place of those sought to be avoided. So in politics, now and then, we have a new party. Knownothingism had its day and after accomplishing nothing it died a natural death. Other movements have been started and after sweeping over the country like an epidemic have fallen of their own weight because they were not built on a firm foundation.

To-day we have the Greenback party. A financial panic came upon the land five years ago. Industry was prostrated, manufactories were closed. The cry went up for bread, and there was none to give. In this condition of the country a few men who had been unsuccessful as leaders of the old parties saw a chance to benefit themselves. They took advantage of the misfortunes of the people and came forward with the cry "we can give you bread; we will start your mills and improve your crops, and revive business. What you want is more money. Give us the control of the government and we will fill your pockets with greenbacks, and you shall live in ease and plenty." Such a bait thrown out at such a time was likely to be nibbled at and these leaders knew it. Without stopping to think how the object could be accomplished, or what the result would be if the country were flooded with millions of irredeemable paper, many men have swallowed this bait, hook and all, and have taken up the cry, "Give us Greenbacks."

In throwing out their bait, these acute leaders saw one difficulty in their way, namely, the fact that all voters belonged to one of the two old parties, and it was therefore necessary to raise a cry against them. So they accused the old parties of having brought all this desolation upon the land, and asserted that the new party alone could save the nation. They did not stop to think that the Democratic party has not had control of the government for eighteen years. How, then, can it be responsible?

Are these leaders sincere? Look where you will, when you find a Greenback chieftain there will you find a candidate for office. More, you will find a bankrupt, who has shown himself incapable of managing successfully his own financial affairs, and in nine cases out of ten you will find a man who has attempted to be a leader in one of the old parties and been repudiated by that party. They are men who have been candidates for office in the old parties, and failed, and are now seeking to form a new organization where their chances will be better. Little care they for the bread they promise to put in the mouths of others. It is their own pockets they are seeking to fill, at the expense of their dupes.

What does the Greenback party propose? Why, to issue greenbacks to an unlimited extent, and make them a legal tender for all debts, this paper money to be based on the credit of the government, not redeemable in gold or silver, but to be worth just what the face calls for, because the government stamp is on them.

Stop and think! Is the credit of the nation any better than that of an individual? If the individual has assetts with which to meet his liabilities his credit is good. If not, he is insolvent and his paper is at a discount, or entirely worthless. The government is in precisely the same situation, and the law makers cannot make its credit good by passing a resolution declaring its irredeemable currency to be money, any more than a merchant can make his notes good by declaring them to be worth their face value. We have not space now to discuss this subject further.

We ask the Democrats of Columbia county simply to stop and think. There is no possibility of the election of the Greenback candidate for Governor. Every Democratic vote cast for Mason is one lost for Dill, and consequently one in favor of Hoyt, and so with State Senator, Congressman, and Representatives. If you want Cameron returned to the United States Senate vote for the Greenback candidate for State Senator, who is a republican, and will receive the republican support. If you want to aid Cameron further, vote for the Greenback candidate for the Legislature, one of whom is a Republican.

We are now just beginning to see the end of the hard times. If you want to keep the country prostrate for another period of five years or longer, vote the Greenback ticket. If you want to flood the country with irredeemable currency that will put prices back where they were during the war when a dollar greenback was worth about forty cents, vote the Greenback ticket. If you want a financial panic more distressing than this country has ever known, vote for Mason and the greenback candidates. If you want to perpetuate Republican misrule give Hoyt a vote by voting for Mason.

If you want honest government, if you want honest money, if you desire the overthrow of the Cameron family, if you want prosperity and a return to a sound financial policy, vote for Andrew H. Dill, and the whole Democratic ticket, and when you stop to think about it you will have nothing to regret.

A Republican speaker recently said that it was treason to leave the republican party and that Ex-Governor Curtin was guilty of the crime and was now knocking at the back door of the Democratic party for office. What does he call the action of his party in nominating General Beauregard for Congress in Louisiana? It was an invitation to an ex-rebel to walk into the front door of the Republican party. Governor Curtin left the Republicans on account of their corruption, and Beauregard wouldn't join it for the same reason.

JACK KEHOE AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Times writing from Pittsburg under date of October 10th, says:

"The bargaining for the Mollie Maguire vote in Pennsylvania in 1875 is a matter of history. Its facts are not disputed by anybody informed on the subject, and the prophesy of Jack Kehoe when the money was paid over that "the old man at Harrisburg will never dare hang me, now," has been verified in every particular. It has been the habit of Republicans who were compelled to confess that there was an arrangement for the transfer of the Mollie vote to Hartranft in that year, to say that all the buying was done by the local politicians of Schuylkill without the knowledge or assistance of any outside. This explanation, if true, might relieve the State Republican organization of the odium which such a thing must carry with it. But it is not true. It is a fact that the important question of buying this vote with money was discussed at length and earnestly by the Republican State committee in the campaign of 1875. The proposition for the purchase as presented to the committee met with opposition from a few of the members, notably Mr. William H. Kemble, of Philadelphia, who vigorously protested against the permanent disgrace and injury which such action, if consummated, would bring upon the Republican party. He was voted down, however, by a considerable majority of the members, and a fund of between four and five thousand dollars was immediately provided, which was passed over, through General Siegfried and other local politicians of Schuylkill, to work its infamous purpose. Colonel Henry M. Hoyt, the present Republican candidate for Governor, was chairman of the State committee which decided upon this policy and provided the money. He will not deny the accuracy of this statement nor will any member of his committee of that year.

THE WORK IN ALLEGHENY.

Not only was it the intention to influence the Mollie vote of the anthracite coal regions through the secret society known as the Ancient Order of Hibernians—the members of which in three counties have since been excommunicated by the Catholic Church—but through the same order it was hoped to make the same bargain effective in diverting the Irish vote from the Democratic ticket in this part of the State. The Ancient Order of Hibernians is very strong here, estimated to number some eight or nine thousand in Allegheny county and the bituminous mining districts surrounding, but the effort to control this vote for Hartranft in 1875 was not much of a success, although a few members were picked up. It failed because there was not enough money sent here; because the sympathy between the order in this section of the State and the Mollie Maguires was not sufficiently developed, and because it is almost impossible to get Irishmen in crowds to vote the Republican ticket. Governor Hartranft's messenger, Delaney, did all in his power, however, to accomplish that result. He has returned to the work this year, although, in a slightly different way, and with the benefit of some experience to help him. His chief instrument here in the labor of selling the whole Irish vote is Mr. J. J. Gallagher, of McKeesport, who succeeded Jack Kehoe as the State delegate of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Gallagher has been very active in this matter, and he is making use of the situation in which Kehoe is placed to work upon those belonging to the order. Understanding from previous experience that it will not be easy to turn the vote over to the Republicans, he is disciplining the members to "save a brother's life"—meaning Kehoe—by voting the Greenback ticket. Anything to take this vote from its traditional affiliation will help the cause of Hoyt, and it is easier to get it around to the Greenbackers than to turn it entirely over.

THE GENERAL FEELING.

How much may have been accomplished in this direction cannot be known with any degree of accuracy, but so much has been done that the Democratic organizations here are beginning to feel the defection of the Irish voters, for the first time in the history of the party. It will not be an easy matter to overcome the trouble, but its undoing is being undertaken, as a matter of course, and the impression is that before election these people will be able to see what efforts are being made to trade on their voters and sell them out in gangs, on the pretext of saving the life of a murderer who appears already to have made his life secure by a previous bargain. In going about among the politicians of the State I have found more quiet but serious comment on this Kehoe case than is suspected, and particularly among Republicans who are in the habit of valuing the reputation of their party. At Mauch Chunk early in September, I had a long talk with General Charles Albright, who was associated in the prosecution of Kehoe, and he gave an interesting history of the case. In closing his recital General Albright said "Should the Governor withhold the death warrant in the case of Kehoe, it would surround the Executive with the gravest suspicion." General Albright has since been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Eleventh district; and the Governor has so far withheld the death warrant in the Kehoe case. There is probably not a Republican in the State who has watched the course of events in the matter of this leading Mollie murder but feels that the Governor has surrounded himself with suspicion; many are free in saying so, and the use which is still being made of that celebrated criminal, particularly here, is not doing anything to mend matters."

After mature deliberation we have concluded to insert announcements of independent candidates. We have come to this conclusion on the ground that as a public journal it is our duty to insert all advertisements that contain nothing of an offensive character, that are offered by responsible parties. While publishing the notices of independent candidates we do not wish to be understood as favoring any movement of the kind, and have fully expressed our views on the subject. Such movements create dissensions in the party and rarely if ever, result in any good to the irregular candidate. We advise our readers to stick to the ticket as the Convention made it.

Congressional Conference.

Hazleton, October 15.—The Democratic conferees of Carbon, Columbia, Luzerne and Monroe met to-day, Mr. Broadhead, of Carbon, presiding. The Beamish-Trimmer party, in session at Scranton, have telegraphed among those attending the name of Bernard McManus, who has deserted them and attends here as a looker-on. Up to half-past seven o'clock the conferees had balloted 230 times. A recess until 8 o'clock was taken. The vote stood generally 9 for Klotz and 3 for Brockway; necessary to nominate, 10. Ten more ballots were taken without success and the conference adjourned until Wednesday at 9 o'clock.

The Conference System.

Something ought to be done to change the conference system of nominating congressmen. Theoretically it is a proper enough way for the several counties in a congressional district to settle upon their nominee, but practically it does not work well, as we have never had occasion to be so often reminded as we have been during this year. There always has been embarrassment in it, and it frequently has resulted in the selection of inferior men; but there seems to be something in the political air this fall which makes it especially troublesome to settle the right man for congress. It is quite the fashion for conferees to meet day after day for weeks, and to number their ineffective ballots by the hundreds. It is certainly not a creditable thing for men to do, and reflects very severely upon their common sense and patriotic judgment. It ought not to be difficult for men of ordinary capacity to select the best man from among the candidates; and it is not. But the trouble is that they do not conceive it their duty to nominate the best man, because they have themselves been chosen in the interest of a particular candidate who has succeeded in securing the endorsement of his county. The selection of the conferees is entrusted to him; and his object is to choose such as will adhere staunchly to him, and not such as would incline, after giving him a fair chance for the nomination, to vote for the best man. The inherent vice of the system lies just in this control, giving to the county's candidate the selection of conferees. They thus become, in the conference, the representatives of the candidate and not of their party. It may be assumed that the party in a county would not cling to its first choice for the nomination with anything like the persistency with which its conferees stick to him. They would be more yielding and more reasonable and would not be content to make a senseless exhibition of obstinacy in behalf of any man. They would look to the party good; whereas, the conferee looks only to the fortune of the man who has selected him to do his bidding. It is a humiliating position for him to occupy, and must be an exceedingly annoying one to a man of sense and self respect; for such a one would feel that, while he was making an ass of himself, he could scarcely help it, without subjecting himself to an imputation of treachery to his candidate. Such men, therefore, do not often become conferees unless in behalf of some one who really should be given the nomination, and for whom they can labor with a clear conscience and the public approval.

If only such men were candidates before a conference there would be no difficulty in making the nomination; for they might be relied upon not to press themselves with undue persistency and to interpose their personal ambition against the selection of an equally worthy candidate. But the majority of candidates are men who are able to control a county convention, but who would be of little account in Congress. Sometimes the aspirant is a great rascal who would really discredit the district; and it is especially dangerous to trust the power of selecting conferees in the hands of such a man, who would be ready, if he could not make his point, to sell out the votes he controlled to some other scamp who had the money to buy them.

The Democratic party in the state has suffered quite enough from discreditable nominations thus made and from the distraction caused by the contentions of unworthy men who subordinate the party good to their selfish aims. Is the evil without a remedy? Cannot something be done to bring quickly about an agreement of the party in each district upon its candidate? There does not seem to be any great difficulty in the way. It should be taken for granted that conferees who cannot agree at their first meeting are not fit for their trust; and they should in case of such failure be thereby divested of thier authority. The question might then be referred back to the convention, or to the standing committees of the party in the several counties, or to some other tribunal. The amendments in the present method which we insist on is that conferees first selected should not have power to sit and ballot and bargain and dawdle to the disgust of everybody and to the disgrace of the party. Their power should be sharply limited to one day of conference; and if they cannot then agree they should make way for other men to try their hands at making for the party a creditable nomination. Aspiring candidates and their friends should be taught that the Democratic party does not exist to nourish their ambition.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

A Great Bank Failure.

THE CITY OF GLASGOW BANK CLOSES ITS DOORS WITH LIABILITIES OF $50,000,000.

The liabilities of the City of Glasgow Bank, which closed its doors are stated at $50,000,000. The liability of the shareholder is unlimited. One-hundred-pound shares of the bank were dealt in at over 200, and within a week at 237. The bank was established in 1839, and had fifty to sixty branches. This is the heaviest bank failure in Scotland since 1857, when this concern also suspended.

The other Scotch banks were asked for assistance, but, after examining the books at a meeting, refused to do more than redeem the note circulation of the City of Glasgow Bank, which is stated at three and a quarter millions. The failure has caused great excitement throughout Scotland and in the London Stock Exchange, where there was a heavy fall in Scotch railroad securities in consequence of a pressure of Scotch holders to sell.

The failure of the bank is generally attributed to its resources being locked up in bills, shares and debentures of various kinds that were not readily convertible.

The Echo says the failure is very important, and is not less than a national disaster; but as usual in such cases it has been foreshadowed by innumerable occurrences, and it is hardly likely that it will do more than bring down the commercial firms which are involved in the bill transactions which have overwhelmed the bank.

The death warrant of Jack Kehoe has not yet been signed by Governor Hartranft and it is said will not be until after the election. It begins to look as though there was an agreement between Hartranft and the Mollie Maguires that Kehoe will not be hung if they vote the Republican ticket. If there is no such understanding the Governor is postponing the execution until after the election to keep the friends of Kehoe under the belief that no action will be taken, so they will vote the Republican ticket. The conduct of the Executive in this matter is a disgrace to the state, and thus trifling with a man's life for political purposes is an outrage on humanity.

The United States Supreme Court has decided that unintentional overvaluation of property insured against fire does not vitiate a policy, even though the policy specifies that it is void in case of false swearing by the person taking it out.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15, 1878.

With a loss of three Congressmen in Ohio, three in Indiana, two in Iowa, two in Maine, and one in Vermont, the progress of the radicals in capturing the next House is not encouraging. Besides this loss in number of Members they lose, too, the votes of Ohio and Indiana in event of the choice of President being thrown into the House—a not very unlikely contingency by the way.

It is possible that in some of the November states there will exist substantially the same sort of Legislature as in Maine, made up of Democrats, Republicans, and men who have heretofore belonged to each of these parties, but were not elected on either of the party tickets. There will then be an opportunity to improve the membership of the United States Senate, against the wishes of the class of politicians to which Hamlin, Howe, Cameron and others belong. If in all these cases Democrats are unable to secure the election of men of their own party they may at least aid in retiring the bloody shirt politicians and giving to the country the services of men of ability and of broad and patriotic views. Let them at least retire to private life, whenever it is possible, the men who have become fixed in the idea that one section of the country has not the same rights as another section. That will dispose of several men like Howe, of Wisconsin; Cameron, of Pennsylvania and Christiancy of Michigan. If it should strike at Conkling in New York, I don't believe the country would suffer. This is the grand opportunity to obliterate sectionalism from the Senate. Other troubles will cure themselves after a time, but this is deadly and requires treatment.

Secretary Schurz is reported as expressing the belief that his speech at Cincinnati had a considerable effect in carrying the two city Districts for the Republicans, and in giving that party their large vote on the State ticket. Doubtless the Secretary is right. He is a most attractive speaker, and the large German vote in Cincinnati made his presence peculiarly effective. He spoke only after repeated urging by Mr. Hayes, who had been over the ground and was afraid of the result. The Secretary wishes, he says, to devote his whole time to the duties of his office, and no ordinary temptation will take him away from it. He now proposes a further reorganization of the Interior Department, but may not act until after the November elections. Candidates for the office of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and Commissioner of Pensions may file their papers. Much good could be done by all the States adopting uniform laws concerning the delivery of fugitives from justice flying from one State to another. This is a subject on which the General Goverment seems to have no right to act, and even if it possessed such right it would seem better that the right be exercised. The States should act. It is not becoming or proper, or consistent with good will between the States, that the recent demand on the part of the Govenor of South Carolina, for Kimpton, and the refusal of the Governor of Massachusetts, should be repeated. Uniformity of laws on the subject is possible and would have a most excellent effect.

Pike's toothache drops cure in one minute.

THAT BOY.

Dramatis personæ.—A young American in roundabout and leggins, perched upon the fence devouring a huge piece of mince pie, and a maiden of five summers, in pantaletts, looking very wishfully at the gormand on the fence. Young America—"I say, sis, does your mar make mince pies? If she does I'll bet they ain't so good as my mar's." Little Miss (timidly)—"I like mince pie awful well." Young America—"Well, now, that's funny; Just look here (drawing a quarter of a pie out of his jack pocket) and it's boss, too! Aint my mar good?" (carefully stowing it away in his pocket). That boy "is father to the man" who must have his cigars and any other masculine luxury his contemptible selfishness craves, while his poor sickly wife must do the work of two women ("girls waste more than they earn," he says,) and for the want of a little money to purchase a few bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the sovereign remedy for female diseases and weaknesses, she is literally dying by inches—and all because of that masculine selfishness that would not divide the childish luxury with his playmate, and now tacitly refuses his wife the luxury of health.

Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to fade prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray, light and red hair to a rich brown or deep black as may desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy action, and removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use failing hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brashy, weak or sickly hair, to which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its operation, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts. It contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous.

CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the permanent and speedy cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering fellows, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. oct. 11, 4w

A REMARKABLE RESULT.

It makes no difference how many Physicians, or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of Lung Diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to Throat and Lung Affections Consumption, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Severe Colds settled on the Breast, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough, &c, who have no personal knowledge of Boschee's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives try just one bottle. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists in America. Sept. 6 tf.

Bogus Certificates.

It is no vile drugged stuff, pretending to be made of wonderful foreign roots, barks, &c., and puffed up by long bogus certificates of pretended miraculous cures, but a simple, pure, effective medicine, made of well known valuable remedies, that furnishes its own certificates by its cures. We refer to Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. See "Truths" and "Proverbs" in another column.

Democratic Platform.

The democracy of Pennsylvania unanimously declare:

That the republican party, its measures and its men, are responsible for the financial distress, the misery and the want that now exist;

It has had control of the legislation of the country, and has enacted and perpetuated a policy that has enriched the few and impoverished the many;

Its system of finance has been one of favor to moneyed monopoly, of unequal taxation, of exemption of classes, of high rates of interest, and of remorseless contraction, which has destroyed every enterprise that gave employment to labor.

Its present hold upon federal power was secured by fraud, perjury and forgery. Its laws are unjust and its practices immoral; they distress the people and destroy their substance.

The only remedy for these evils is an entire change of policy and the dethronement of those in power.

And we resolve that further contraction of the volume of United States legal tender notes is unwise and unnecessary. They should be received for customs duties and reissued as fast as received.

Gold silver and United States legal tender notes at par therewith, are just basis for paper circulation.

A close connection of the federal government with the business interests of the people, through national banks, tends to monopoly and centralization, but, in changing the system, uniformity of notes, security to the note holder and protection of the capital invested, should be provided for.

Treasury notes issued in exchange for bonds, bearing a low rate of interest, is the best form in which the credit of the government can be given to a paper currency.

Labor and capital have equal demands upon and responsibilities to law. Commerce and manufactures should be encouraged, so that remunerative work and fair wages may be yielded to labor, whilst safety of investment and moderate returns for its use belong to capital. Violence or breach in support of the real or supposed rights of either should be promptly supressed by the strong arm of the law.

The Republican party, by its legislation in 1872, increased the tariff on hides and leather from $1.25 to 75 cents per ton, and upon iron, steel, wool, metals, paper, glass, leather, and all manufactures of each of them ten per cent., a fatal blow at the industries and labor of Pennsylvania.

The public lands are the common property of the people, and they should not be sold to speculators nor granted to railroad or other corporations, but should be reserved for homesteads for actual settlers.

Our public debt should be held at home, and the bonds representing it should be of small denominations, in which the savings of the masses may be safely invested.

Thorough investigation into the electoral frauds of 1876 should be made, fraud should be exposed, truth vindicated and criminals punished; but we oppose any attack upon the Presidential title as dangerous to our institutions and fruitless in its results.

The republican party, controlling the legislation of the state, has refused to execute many of the new forms of the new constitution; and among other things, it has neglected and refused.

To compel the acceptance of all its provisions by the corporations of the state;

To prevent undue and unreasonable discrimination in charges for transportation of freight and passengers, and without abatement or drawback to any;

To give to all equal means for transporting raw material of the state in such manner and to such points as they may prefer; and

To publish in good faith monthly statements of where the money of the people was kept.

The republican party creates new offices and enormous perquisites to others, and fills them with favorites, whose chief duty is to manage its political machinery.

Its administration of the state government grows more expensive with each year of its rule.

Legislation has been directed by republican lobbyists, who in turn manipulate and control the nominations of the republican party, and its candidates are the creation of a junta whose decrees are accepted as the irreversible mandates of absolute hereditary power.

We denounce these methods, these measures, and these men, as unworthy the support of an honest and free people, and we invite all of every shade of political opinion, to unite with us in delivering the commonwealth from their hateful rule.

E. F. KUNKEL'S BITTER WINE OF IRON.

This truly valuable tonic has been so thoroughly tested by all classes of the community that it is now deemed indispensable as a Tonic medicine. It costs but little, purifies the blood and gives tone to the stomach, renovates the system and prolongs life. Everybody should have it. For the cure of weak stomachs, general debility, indigestion, diseases of the stomach, and for all cases requiring a tonic. This wine includes the most agreeable and efficient Salt of Iron we possess—Citrate of Magnetic Oxide, combined with the most energetic of vegetable tonics—Yellow Peruvian bark.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?
If you do try Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron.
I only ask a trial of this valuable tonic.

Beware of counterfeits, as Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron is the only sure and efficient remedy in the known world for the permanent cure of Dyspepsia and Debility and as there are a number of imitations offered to the public, I would caution the community to purchase none but the genuine article, manufactured by E. F. Kunkel, and having his stamp on the cork of every bottle. The very fact that others are attempting to imitate this valuable remedy proves its worth and speaks volumes in its favor. Sold only in $1 bottles or six bottles for $5. Try this valuable medicine and be convinced of its merits. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

Tape Worm Removed Alive.

Head and all complete, in two hours. No fee till head passes. Seat, Pin and Stomach worms removed by Dr. Kunkel, 259 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. Send for a circular with a treatise on all kinds of worms, advice free. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Kunkel's Worm Syrup, which will do the work. Price $1.00. It never fails to remove all kinds, from children or grown persons. Directions with it.

We learn that our legal friend, James Bryson, Esq., has moved to Scranton, where he will be associated with his brother, Wm. Bryson, Esq., of Centralia, in the practice of law. They have opened an office in the Scranton Republican building.

"Helen's Babies." This work is acknowledged to be the best selling article in our bookstores. Druggists, however, say that Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup sells better than any other medicine. It is always reliable.

DEATH OF JUDGE JORDAN.—The well known Judge Jordan died at his residence, in Sunbury, after a short illness. Eleven years ago he retired from the bench of Lycoming county, which he had occupied for upwards of twenty years. He was a great jurist in his day and had an extensive acquaintance with the public men of Pennsylvania. His death will be deeply regretted by a large circle of acquaintances. He was over eighty years of age.

BERWICK.—Our sister town of Berwick is one of the liveliest along the Susquehanna. The Jackson & Wooden Manufacturing Company is now employing about 500 men in their car shops and the rolling mill. The common day laborers are paid one dollar per day and the car builders get $11 for building a car. Four men can complete a car in one day which is remarkably good wages these times. We are glad to chronicle this prosperity and sincerely hope it will spread rapidly to neighboring towns.

LILL AT BERWICK.

There will be a grand mass meeting held in Berwick on Saturday the 26th inst., which will be addressed by our candidate for Governor Hon. A. H. Dill and A. G. Cochran, Esq., of Pittsburg. This may be the only point to hear Andrew H. Dill in this county. Let there be a large turn out of the Democracy, Republicans and Nationalists, to hear the issues of the campaign fairly and ably discussed. This meeting will be held under the directions of the State Central as well as our County Committee. The arrangements are being already made and will be complete. Large delegations and bands of music will be in attendance.

Our friend and former townsman, William A. Clark has launched his bark on the sea of matrimony. On Thursday, October 17th at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, Miss Anna Josephine Hubbard of Philadelphia became Mrs. W. A. Clark, at the residence of her mother, the Rev. Joel Ruderow, formerly pastor of St Paul's Church of this place performing the ceremony. No cards were sent out, and we are informed that the wedding was a quiet one. After a visit to New York State, the happy couple will return to their home, 1834 Brandywine street. The numerous friends of Mr. Clark wish himself and wife a long life of happiness and prosperity, and will be pleased to see them here any time.

LAW FOR DRUGGISTS.—Judge Dean, at a recent term of the Blair county court, in sentencing the Tyrone druggist for selling liquor without license, took occasion to remark substantially as follows:

"Druggists are authorized to sell liquor for medical purposes, subject, however, to indictment. A physician's prescription is not of itself a safeguard for the druggist. If the latter, even on the prescription of a regular physician, sells liquor to persons of known intemperate habits, or to those who are known to use liquor as a beverage, he is liable to indictment, and if found guilty will be punished to the extent of the law. In short, in the opinion of the court, a druggist who sells liquor for any purpose whatever, or upon the prescription of the most eminent physician in the county, does so at their own risk."

Robert R. Little, Esq., District Attorney, has been prosecuting a suit outside of the Quarter Sessions for some time past. On Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock he changed his relations from suitor to husband. At the Baptist church in the presence of a few friends he was joined in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Deborah Tustin, second daughter of Rev. J. P. Tustin, of this town. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father. The happy couple left on the D. L. & W. train for an extended tour. The numerous friends of both parties wish them much joy.

BENTON!!

Democratic Mass Meeting.

The Democracy and all others who are interested in the vital questions of the day will meet at Benton on

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 22d, 1878

at two o'clock in the afternoon. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. Robert E. Monaghan of Chester; Hon. C. R. Buckalew and Hon. J. G. Freeze of Bloomsburg. Let there be a large attendance.

COLUMBIA COUNTY FAIR.

The Exhibition of the Columbia County Agricultural Society began on Wednesday, October 9th and continued until Saturday, the 12th Heretofore the fair has been held three days, but the success of the present year will probably inaugurate the custom of having it one day longer. There was the usual crowd of people in attendance, and the display was not much different from that of other years. It is estimated that over 10,000 tickets were sold.

The leading feature of the exhibition was the Tournament on Thursday. Fifteen men gaily dressed in theatrical and fancy dress costumes with lances in hand and mounted on fine horses, paraded through the principal streets of the town in the morning, headed by the Bloomsburg Band. In the afternoon at three o'clock, the procession made its appearance on the grounds, and shortly afterwards the tilt began. There were three wires strung across the track at the Grand stand, about twenty feet apart, and from each of these an iron ring two inches in diameter was suspended. The knight who could remove the largest number of rings in four trials and carry them off on his lance, with his horse on a keen run, was the victor, and had the privilege of crowning the Queen of Love and Beauty. Much interest was manifested in the contest, and one knight who carried off the three rings on two occasions met with loud applause. The largest number captured out of four trials was seven, by two different knights. In two more trials to settle the tie, three more rings were taken by one, making ten rings out of eighteen, which was very good. After the announcement of the result, Miss Grace Harman was crowned Queen of Love and Beauty by the victorious knight, and Miss Minnie Eyerly and Miss Sadie Bates were crowned Maids of Honor by the two taking the next highest number of rings. The young ladies were becomingly dressed in white and wore gilt crowns. After all the knights had done honor to the fair ones Col. J. G. Freeze made a few remarks explaining the Tournaments of the middle ages. The Queen and her maids were then escorted home by the Cavalcade, and the Tournament was over.

There was more music at this fair than a any previous one. The town and grounds fairly swarmed with gay uniforms and brass horns. The Bloomsburg Band was engaged to play on the grounds during three days. The bands from Catawissa, Buckhorn, Orangeville, Jerseytown and Washingtonville were also in attendance, and all played remarkably well.

There was the usual number of mountebanks, cheap johns and side shows, on the ground.

This is one of the objectionable features of our county fairs, and ought to be discontinued, though it is not so bad now as a few years ago when thimble riggers and three card montes were allowed to swindle the unwary.

Many of the displays this year were large. The fruit department was fine and some beautiful specimens of corn were exhibited.

M. C. Sloan & Bros. entered a number of their celebrated phaetons and carriages, and George Stricker of Catawissa had two handsome phaetons and an open buggy with patent springs, on exhibition. Several platform wagons from Bath, New York, were entered, which did not compare in workmanship with our home manufacture.

Rollins & Holmes exhibited stoves, ranges, &c., and an elegant galvanized iron monument manufactured by them, which could not be distinguished from stone.

Cadman and Correll had fine displays of furniture.

Poultry, stock and machinery of different kinds, and a large assortment of fancy articles &c., completed the list.

The racing was nothing remarkable. The big race on Saturday afternoon was won by Black Harry of Wilkesbarre, but the race was so evidently a put up job that it excited but little interest. The efficient President, Frances Evans and the faithful secretary, M. W. Nuss, are entitled to much credit for the manner in which the fair was conducted.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The Town Council met in their room on Wednesday evening, October 9, in monthly session. Present: G. A. Herring, President, and Evans, Rabb, Holmes, Elwell and Sharpless, members. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Mr. Evans stated that the Hook and Ladder Company took possession of their room rented from A. J. Evans on October 3d, 1878. Mr. Rabb of the committee on the opening and extension of West street, as petitioned for at last meeting, reported that it will require an expenditure of about fifty dollars to open the street so as to make the same passable. On motion the report was accepted and the committee discharged. On motion it was ordered that the President ascertain from Mr. D. J. Waller whether the ground used in opening and extending West street as contemplated would be donated to the town and report at the next meeting. On motion the following bills were approved and ordered paid: Stephen Knorr, smithing, $2.64; James Thomas' and others, $22.87; James Sterner, police, $12.00; Pursel & Rodarmel, smithing, $4.40; Bloomsburg Gas Co., $46.08; John F. Pursel, smithing, $7.55; Samuel Shaffer, Street Commissioner's return, $705.69; salary for Secretary, $15.00. On motion it was ordered that if any persons owing town tax shall have rendered service to the town, the amount of tax shall be first deducted and an order therefor given to the collector and an order for the balance shall be given to them. The contract for building culvert on alley in the rear of Jesse Coleman's lot was awarded to G. B. Graul, he being the lowest bidder. On motion it was ordered that the penalty for allowing cattle to run at large between 8 p. m. and 6 a. m. shall be fifty cents a head to be paid to the officer impounding the same. The committee on bonds to be issued not being ready to report, upon motion it was ordered that the Council adjourn to meet Thursday evening, October 17th, at 7 o'clock.

At the Republican meeting at the Opera House last Friday night Mr. Chase the speaker said he would rather trust the worst republican than the best democrat. A man whose prejudices are so bitter as that is not fit to attempt to teach the public on any subject, while he who believes that a man's morals are governed by the ticket he votes, is either a fool or a knave.

THE GREENBACK SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.

As announced last week James P. Herdic was nominated for State Senator at Danville October 8th by the Greenback Conference. But the machinery of the new party does not seem to run smoothly. We publish below the action of the conference at Jerseytown on the 11th, and call especial attention to the fact that this new departure, based on alleged corruption in the old parties, is now charging Bribery and Corruption on its own members. Now that the ears of the animal have become so plainly visible, Democrats who allow themselves to be duped into following after strange gods, will do it with their eyes open.

JERSEYTOWN CONFERENCE.

Immediately after the adjournment of the Conference of the National Greenback Labor Party of the 24th Senatorial District, held at Danville, on the evening of the 8th of October, a call was issued and signed by six of the members of that Conference for another meeting at Jerseytown, Columbia county, at 12 o'clock, on Friday, the 11th day of October, of which the following is a copy:

"We, the undersigned, conferees from the Counties of Lycoming and Columbia, representing three-fourths of the voters of the District, "repudiating the SECRET action of the Conference, which we believe was the direct result "of Bribery and Corruption, hereby agree to meet "at Jerseytown, Columbia county, on Friday, "the 11th day of October, 1878, at 12 o'clock of "said day to consult in regard to what action is "due our constituents, who in opposing the mon"ey power' have been sold out to it by some un"worthy representative.

JOHN K. GROTZ,
HERVEY E. SMITH,
THOS. BUCK,
WM. J. WOOD,
C. H. BEEBER,
D. MCDONALD."

Pursuant to this call the Columbia and Lycoming conferees met at the time and place appointed, and were called to order by John K. Grotz, Chairman. Thos. Buck acting as Sec'y. The call was read. The following conferees were present: John K. Grotz, Hervey E. Smith, Thos. Buck, William J. Wood, C. H. Beeber and Capt. J. B. Robison, substitute for D. McDonald. Hon. C. D. Eldred of Lycoming county, then declined being a candidate. He did this the more readily from his knowledge of the fact that there was a candidate already selected in writing and that no selection having been made in the assembly of all the conferees, therefore, he believed that the nomination so made in writing stood as the choice of the District until revoked in open Conference of all the conferees. At the conclusion of his remarks the conferees agreed to the withdrawal of Judge Eldred. He was followed by A. C. Smith, stating that in the interests of harmony he desired not to stand in the way of the success of the National party. He was willing that a new man should be selected and therefore asked to withdraw his name from the contest to that end. Thereupon the conferees on motion unanimously refused to agree to the withdrawal of Mr. Smith. The following paper was then read:

"This is to certify that we, whose names are hereto attached, having been duly appointed Senatorial Conferees for the National Greenback Labor Party of our respective counties, and authorized to confer with each other and put in nomination a candidate for State Senator in the 24th Senatorial District of Pennsylvania, do nominate for that position Hon. A. C. Smith of Columbia county, and do cordially and earnestly commend him to the hearty support of the members of our own party and all others who desire a speedy change for the better in governmental affairs, as one eminently fitted to serve with fidelity and ability in the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania."

JOHN K. GROTZ, substitute for E. E. ORVIS.	Columbia Co.
HERVEY E. SMITH,
DENNIS MCDONALD.
VICTOR A. LOTIER,	Montour Co.
DAVID D. WILLIAMS,
HENRY VINCENT,
C. H. BEEBER,	Lycoming Co.
WM. J. WOOD,
THOS. BUCK,

Resolutions were then adopted to the effect that Herdic had not received a majority of the votes at Danville, and that therefore the paper nomination of A. C. Smith was binding on the district. Adjourned.

Further comment is unnecessary.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

On Monday evening last a Democratic meeting was held in Montour township, at Dietrick's school house, which was organized by the appointment of Peter A. Evans Esq., President, and Josiah Giger, Secretary. The meeting was addressed by Williamson H. Jacoby and Charles G. Barkley, Esq. The attendance was good, and the speeches listened to with a great deal of interest.

A Democratic meeting was held in Mt. Pleasant township on Tuesday evening. Jacob Stroup presided and Benj. Kistler was Secretary. T. J. Vanderslice, Esq., one of our Democratic candidates for Assembly, made the speech. He gives a good report of this township, and confidently looks for a full Democratic vote on the whole ticket on the 5th of November. Mt. Pleasant will do her duty.

TROUBLE AHEAD.—The National Record of last week contains an article on James P. Herdic, the Greenback candidate for State Senator, showing what a perfect man he is, and the fittest nomination that could have been made. Last week the conferees of Columbia and Lycoming counties met at Jerseytown and nominated A. C. Smith for state senator, because Herdic's nomination was procured by fraud. Hervey E. Smith, acting editor of the Record for this county attended this conference, and, of course, supports his father's claims. We await the next issue of the Record with some curiosity to see what it will say. As things are getting slightly mixed, Mr. Orvis had better come home and fix up matters.

Cadman's display at the Fair attracted much attention. A beautiful set of cottage chamber furniture, with oil painting on the head board of the bed, was one of the finest of the kind ever on exhibition, and was offered at an astonishingly low price. There was also an elegant set of walnut furniture. A fine piece of work was a carved chair of his own manufacture, covered with worsted work by Mrs. Cadman. Call in and see the fine stock of general furniture.

SENATORIAL CONFERENCE.

The Democratic Senatoral Conference resumed its labors at Danville on Wednesday of last week. Balloting was continued until Saturday without effecting a nomination, when it adjourned until Monday. All day Monday was consumed in balloting until a little before midnight when Hon. George D. Jackson of Sullivan County was nominated on the 527th ballot. Sullivan and Montour each giving him two votes, and Lycoming one. The vote stood Jackson 5, McHenry 2, Piatt, 1. This conference was in session nearly two weeks, and during the entire time there was harmony and friendship between both conferees and candidates. No impatience or excitement was manifested, and not an unkind word was spoken, which is an unusual thing where all parties are so intent upon nominating their own man.

THROWN FROM A TRAIN.—John Gaffney, fireman of engine 47 on the Shore line Railroad of New Haven, Ct., was thrown from the engine against a rock, while the train was going at the rate of 35 miles an hour. He was all but killed, yet thanks to Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia, recovered completely in four days. Sold by all druggists. Send for pamphlet.

LADIES, DELICATE AND FEEBLE.

Those languid tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be about on your feet; that constant drain that takes from your system all its former elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain on your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain are permanently removed. Will you heed this? See "Truths."

HISTORY OF COLUMBIA COUNTY.

MILITARY RECORD.

Three Years Service.

187th Regiment.

COMPANY C.

A part of this company recruited in Montour county, was a portion of a body of troops known as the First Battalion, organised for six month service. It was Company D. of that organization, mustered in June 22. 1863, and mustered out January 9, 1864, but was immediately re-organized and became Company C, of the 187th Regiment. Company D had done guard and provost duty in the state, and this publication follows the fortunes of Co. C. which was organized in March 1864 at Camp Curtin. It reached the army in the field during the battle at Cold Harbor. In all the heavy fighting before Petersburg it had a full share, and was highly complimented. It had the head of the procession at President Lincoln's funeral obsequies, from Baltimore to Independence Hall. It was mustered out at Harrisburg August 2, 1865. Joseph F. Ramsay, Lieutenant Colonel, discharged September 29, 1864, the Company being in command of Captain Young. All the men not otherwise accounted for were mustered out with the regiment.

William Young, Captain.

Orville D. Harder, 1st Leiutenant.

George G. Lovett, 2d Lieutenant, promoted to Captain Company K. discharged March 9; 1865.

Miscellaneous.

Typographical Errors.

SOMB AMUSING BLUNDERS IN TYPE SETTING.

A New York le ter writer thus sketches a few typographical errors: Once Mr. Greely wrote an editorial entitled "William H. Seward." Imagine his rage when it came to him in proof headed "Richard the Third." Yet anybody familiar with his chirograph, if his inky jerks can be so designated, will readily see, not only how such a mistake could be made, but how it probably would be. Aagain he wrote about "three men in Buckram," and the prosaic typesetter got it "three men in a back room." And this notwithstanding the fact that two compositors of sagacity and experience were hired at an extra salary because they could read his copy.

But George Ripley has been the victim of the grossest outrages in this line. In one of his book notices he took the liberty of quoting from Shakespeare, "Tis true, 'tis pity; and pity 'tis 'tis true." And the wretched bungler got it, "'Tis two, 'tis fifty —'tis fifty-two."

That is some worse than James F. Babcock's martyrdom, when he wrote, "Is there no balm in Gilead?" and read the next morning, to his consternation, "Is there no barn in Guilford?"

Mr. Crawford, a member of parliament; recently sent to India the message, "The news from America favors the holders," and it arrived there with the information that "News from America savors of soldiers."

The Indian Juggler.

There was nothing very remarkable in the appearance or dress of our conjurer. An elderly man, short and sparely made, dressed in a dingy white cotton, with very tight legs to his drawers, he might have been a respectable servant out of place, but actually was a small land owner who had taken to conjuring for his amusement. When he entered the room he spread a white cloth upon the floor and sat down upon it with his back to the wall, the door of the room being on his right hand. His spectators were disposed in the following fashion: Mr. Smyth sat on a chair nearly in the middle of the room, I was sitting on a sofa near the door, the Parsee merchant stood in the doorway, about arm's length from me. The servants stood about in groups, the largest group being between the door and the conjurer. As soon as he had settled himself he turned to the Parsee and asked him for the loan of a rupee. The peddler at first demurred a little, but, on being guaranteed against loss, he produced the coin. He was going to put it into the conjurer's hand, but the latter refused and told the Parsee to hand it to Mr. Smyth's bearer. The bearer took it, and, at the request of the conjuror, looked at it and declared it to be really a ruper. The conjuror then told him to hand it to his master. Mr. Smyth took it, and then followed this dialogue: Conjurer—Are you sure that it is a rupee? Smyth—Yes Conjurer—Close your hand on it and hold it tight. Now, think of some country in Europe, but do not tell me your thought, [then the conjuror ran over the names of several countries, such as France, Germany, Russia, Turkey and America—for the native of India is under the impression that America is in Europe.] After a moment's pause Mr. Smyth said he had thought of a country. "Then open your hand," said the juggler; 'see what you have got, and tell me if it is a coin of the country you thought of." It was a five franc piece, and Mr. Smyth had thought of France. He was going to hand the coin to the conjurer, but the latter said, "No, pass it to the other sahib." Mr. Smyth accordingly put the five franc piece into my hand; I looked closely at it, then closed my hand and thought of Russia When I opened it I found not a Russian but a Turkish silver piece about the size of the five franc, or of our own crown piece. This I handed to Mr. Smyth and suggested that he should name America, which he did, and found a Mexican dollar in his hand. The coin, whatever it was, had never been in the conjurer's haud from the time the rupee was borrowed from the Parsee merchant. Mr. Smyth and his bearer had both of them closely examined the rupee, and Mr. Smyth and I turned over several times the five franc piece, the Turkish coin, and the dollar; so the trick did not depend on a reversible coin. Indeed, it could not, for the coin underwent three changes, as has been seen. I need only add, for the information of those readers who know not India, that a rupee is only about the size of a florin, and therefore about half the weight of a five franc piece. The juggler performed several other tricks that day, but they were of a commonplace kind, and in no way comparable to the coin trick, which I have never seen rivalled by any other conjurer in India or Europe.—The University Magazine.

GILES' LINIMENT IODIDE AMMONIA.

Cures all Pain in Man and Beast

TESTIMONIALS:

PROLAPSUS UTERI (Falling of the Womb.) A Wonderful Cure.—Nine years my wife suffered with this terrible complaint. She was attended by doctor after doctor, went to the different hospitals where females are treated; tried them all; wore bandages and pessaries with only temporary relief. Her life was miserable. We applied Dr. Giles' Liniment. Her relief was immediate. She is now well.

R. MCDERMOTT,
40 West 13th street, New York.

I had twelve strokes of Paralysis. My leg, arm and tongue were useless; was obliged to use a cathéter every day. Doctor Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia has cured me. Will answer any inquiries so that all afflicted may know of it.

JOHN APPEL, North Branford, Conn.

Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, April 22, '76.

W. M. Giles, Esq., Dear Sir—I used your Iodide of Ammonia Liniment on Flora Temple's lame pastern joint. She had been quite lame; the effect was wonderful; she walks now quite well. Very respectfully yours,

A. WELCH.

P. S.—I am now using it on Littleton's right fore leg.

A large shoe boil on a valuable young horse was removed by Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia.

SHEPHERD KNAPP,
Carpets, 178 sixth ave., New York.

ASTHMA.—The tortures and agonies I endured for six years, none but those who have suffered with this terrible disease can know. My life was miserable. In desperation I tried Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia. It gave me instant relief. Used it internally as well as externally.

THOS. BRANIGAN,
197 west 37th street, New York.

I was in a dreadful condition. Joints swollen, pain intense. Injections of morphine into my veins failed to relieve me. Giles' Iodide of Ammonia took away the deposits from my joints. I want every one who suffers to know what will cure them.

FORDYCE LOTHROP,
North Hyde Park, Lamoille co. Vt.

Another Sufferer cured.—Discharged from the Massachusetts General Hospital as incurable, with inflammatory rheumatism in my shoulders, fingers and feet; suffered fearfully for three years, tried everything; lost all hope. Dr. Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia effected a complete cure.

ELLEN SMITH,
No. 72 Prane street, Fall River, Mass

Sprains, spluts, bruises, Lameness in horses, Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia is a perfect specific. No person who owns a horse should be without it.

M. HODENS,
569 seventh avenue, New York.

In my family, and for the stock, I have used Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia. It is unsurpassed, and I am surprised at the many different maladies in which it is applicable. It gives the utmost satisfaction.

VIGORENE

THE GREAT POSITIVE CURE

for all DISEASES arising from a deranged condition of the BLOOD, LIVER, NERVES, or DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

The Best Family Medicine on Earth.

$100 IN GOLD

to any person afflicted with a disease that VIGORENE will not relieve or cure, providing the bones or organs are not wasted beyond point of repair.

VIGORENE

is scientifically compounded from Herbs, Roots, Barks and Gums found in California and the West Indies, combining a Tonic, Cathartic, Alterative, Diuretic and Sudorific.

Its immediate effect upon the digestive organs, whether impaired by disease or exhausted from any cause, is to increase their powers of assimilation and nutrition. It increases the appetite, assists digestion, and gives firmness and tone to the muscular and circulating system. It stimulates the vital processes to renewed activity, alters, corrects and purifies the fluids, tones the organs and re-establishes their healthy functions.

THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR COLDS.

It is useless to expatiate upon the virtues of this GREAT REMEDY. If you are suffering from BILIOUS ATTACKS, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, DEBILITATION, GENERAL DEBILITY, CONSTIPATION, KIDNEY or NERVOUS DISEASES, or any disorder arising from IMPURE BLOOD, get a bottle of VIGORENE and take it as per directions upon each bottle. In English, German, Spanish and French. One bottle will better convince you of its merits than volumes expressed in printers' ink.

A trial of one bottle insures its adoption in every family for no Man, Woman or Child can take VIGORENE and remain long sick. It first cleanses the system, then repairs, then builds up, thus curing disease and establishing health on a permanent, safe and enduring basis.

Put up in large bottles, and is pleasant to take.

Sold by Druggists Generally. Price, $1.00 per Bottle.

Walker & Badger Mfg. Co., Prop'rs, 40 John Street, New York.

VIGORENE

SUFFERED 30 YEARS.

Jersey City, September 2d, 1878.

No tongue can tell what I have suffered for the past 30 years from CONSTIVENESS and BLIND BLEEDING PILES, at times so bad that I could not stand upon my feet. I could not walk half a mile without suffering intense agony which would bring on severe illness.

About one year ago I was induced to try a bottle of your VIGORENE and am glad to state that after taking four bottles I was entirely cured of both disorders and am now enjoying excellent health and strength. I advise all similarly afflicted to try VIGORENE.

MRS. G. P. FERRIS, 184 Sussex St.

DON'T GO FOOLING AROUND.

As a regulating medicine I can confidently recommend VIGORENE. I have used it in my family and know others who have tried it, and all pronounce it good and reliable. It don't go fooling around and disappoint you by making no sign, but it attends to business and accomplishes that whereunto it is sent and disappoints no one.

W. H. DUVALL, Riverhead, L. I.

OF YEARS STANDING.

I used one bottle of VIGORENE and can truthfully say that it has cured me of DYSPEPSIA and BILIOUSNESS of years standing.

ANTI-FAT

ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT is the great remedy for Corpulency. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. It acts on the food in the stomach, preventing its conversion into fat. It does not according to directions, it will reduce a fat person from 2 to 5 pounds a week. In placing this remedy before the public as a positive cure for obesity, we do so knowing its ability to cure, as attested by hundreds of testimonials, of which the following from a lady in Columbus, Ohio, is a sample: "Gentlemen—Your Anti-Fat was duly received. I took it according to directions and it reduced me five pounds. I was so much elated over the result that I immediately sent to ACKERMAN'S drug-store for the second bottle." Another, a physician, writing for a patient from Providence, R. I., says: "Four bottles have reduced her weight from 190 pounds to 162 pounds, and there is general improvement in health." A gentleman writing from Boston, says: "Without special change or attention to diet, two bottles of Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me four and one-quarter pounds." The well-known Wholesale Druggists, SMITH, DOGGETT & SMITH, of Boston, Mass., write as follows: "Allan's Anti-Fat has reduced a lady in our city seven pounds in three weeks." A gentleman in St. Louis writes: "Allan's Anti-Fat reduced me twelve pounds in three weeks, and altogether I have lost twenty-five pounds since commencing its use." Messrs. DOWELL & LIPPTON, Wholesale Druggists, of Buffalo, N.Y., write: "To THE PROPRIETORS OF ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT: Gentlemen.—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat. 'If the Anti-Fat had the desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week until I had lost twenty-five pounds. I hope never to regain what I have lost.' Anti-Fat is an unrivalled blood-purifier. It promotes digestion, curing dyspepsia, and is also a potent remedy for rheumatism. Sold by druggists. Pamphlet on Obesity sent on receipt of stamp.

BOTANIC MEDICINE CO., PROPRS, Buffalo, N.Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while using its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, simply in view of its utmost or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and will it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from constitutional causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Hasting-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Dependency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single end or purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor work wonders, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats blunntly of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

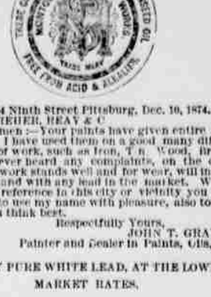
JOB PRINTING

Neatly and cheaply executed at the COLUMBIAN Office.

ANTI-FAT



54 Ninth Street Pittsburg, Dec. 10, 1874.

Messrs. DREHER, REAY & C

Gentlemen:—Your paints have given entire satisfaction. I have used them on a good many different kinds of work, such as Iron, Tin, Wood, Brick, &c., and never heard any complaints, on the contrary, the work stands well and for wear, will in my opinion, stand with any mad in the market. When in want of reference in this city or vicinity you are at liberty to use my name with pleasure, also to use this as you think best.

Respectfully Yours,

JOHN T. GRAY,

The Four Quarterly Reviews

AND

Blackwood's Magazine

The Leonard Scott Publishing Co.

41 Barclay St., New York.

Continue their authorized Reprints of

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig)

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal),

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW (Conservative),

THE BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEW (Evangelical),

AND

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

☞ These Reprints are not selections; they give the originals in full, and at about one-third the price of the English Editions.

The latest advances and discoveries in the arts and sciences, the recent additions to knowledge in every department of literature, and all the new publications as they issue from the press, are fully reported and discussed in the pages of these periodicals, in language at once clear, forcible and comprehensive. The articles are commonly more condensed and full of matter than the average books of the period.

CLUBS.

Discount of twenty per per cent. will be allowed to clubs of four or more persons. Thus: four copies of Blackwood or of one Review will be sent to one address for $12 80, four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $48, and so on.

To clubs of ten or more, in addition to the above discount, a copy gratis will be allowed to the getter up of the club.

PREMIUMS.

New subscribers (applying early) for the year 1878 may have, without charge, the numbers for the last quarter of 1877 of such periodicals as they subscribe for.

Or instead, new subscribers to any two, three, or four of the above periodicals, may have one of the "Four Reviews" for 1877; subscribers to all five may have two of the "Four Reviews" or one set of Blackwood's Magazine for 1877.

Neither premiums to subscribers nor discount to clubs can be allowed, unless the money is remitted direct to the publishers. No premiums given to clubs.

To secure premiums it will be necessary to make early application, as the stock available for that purpose is limited.
